Surprising Hour Sales Tomorrow

The "Clean Sweep" Sale has been a series of surprises from the beginning. But the greatest surprise of all will be tomorrow's Hour Sales. Always crowd drawing, always popular throughout the length and breadth of Washington, always and constantly lowering prices to half cost or so—the sales for tomorrow have been prepared with the one and only idea of surpassing all past Hour Sale days and moving out a vast quantity of merchandise prior to inventory. You will agree with us that such pricing as this will do it—

"Hecht's Greater Stores"

513-515 Seventh Street.

All the Storm Coats Are Included in the Sale.

Such an Overcoat Buying Opportunity Will Never Come Again.

Our word of advice to the men of Washington is that the Overcoat selection be made here tomorrow. For the rapid selling at the "Clean Sweep" stock reducing prices has brought us within sight of the sale's end. The stock is fast nearing the limit we had in mind in making the sale.

Just consider for a moment what the Overcoat Sale means. Here are Overcoats in the very best of the season's styles and fabrics, selling up to $15—you pay $7.50; Overcoats, the very finest, selling up to $25—you pay $14.75.

Little wonder, then, that so many have taken advantage of the sale prices, and that the interest is increasing every moment.

The Coats are in all the season's best and newest and most called-for styles and fabrics—long, short and medium lengths, coats with the yoke effect and without, the long box coat, the swell paddocks and surt
